Profile

I am a London and Essex-based designer with a passion for growing both creatively and professionally. Curious and enthusiastic by nature, I'm always keen to learn, develop new skills, and collaborate with inspiring designers.

I'm driven by creating meaningful design that makes a lasting impact and enjoy working across a wide range of mediums. From motion and digital design to print, experiential and web, I thrive on variety and balancing multiple projects. Throughout my career, I've pitched to clients, worked closely with suppliers, and taken responsibility for leading projects from concept to delivery.

Outside of work, I'm a plant mum, a serial Friends re-watcher and a fan of a good thriller book. I also enjoy pilates and swimming as a way to unwind from day-to-day life.

Experience

Packaging Designer
JosephJoseph

March 2024 - Present

At JosephJoseph, I've gained experience in a high-pressure environment, working to product launch deadlines. Being the lead designer on multiple projects each season, I need to stay organised, managing these projects. My role is to see these projects through from conceiving, pitching ideas and art directing photoshoots, then editing the final photos and artwork files for release. I've developed strategic thinking when tackling problems whilst liaising with global suppliers and developed a sharp eye for detail.

Designer
Wondersphere

May 2022 - March 2024

At Wondersphere I was a core member of the small design team. With taking lead on multiple projects, creating decks and pitching to clients, I grew into myself and built confidence as a designer. I immersed myself in all new challenges at Wondersphere, such as art directing and leading a photoshoot within my first month.

Creative Intern
Superunion

March 2022 - May 2022

I enjoyed my time working amongst this large team at Superunion and was motivated by the collaboration. It gave me the opportunity to learn from many experienced designers in the field and be a team player. I contributed meaningfully to projects as my work was pitched to global clients.

Design Intern
Studio Mean

January 2022 - February 2022

Joining this small team I was assigned to live projects which gave me experience in working independently towards deadlines. During this Internship, I'm proud to share I worked on 'The Sustainability Show' branding which launched Autumn 2022.

Junior Designer
Two Circles

October 2021 - January 2022

This role exposed me to various disciplines in creating marketing materials, print and web based, and creating presentations for the sales team. I learnt to take ownership of projects as well as working collaboratively with the wider Two Circles team.

Design Intern
For Different

August 2021

Just a month after completing my university course I was in my first internship position where, actively got involved in a variety of live briefs both in person and in a remote setting. I developed my presentation skills by sharing my ideas in workshops to the team and oversaw client meetings, where I learnt the basis of client - designer relationships.
